It is now recognized that the laws of breeding apply with equal force to the vegetable and animal kingdom, says W. C. Latta, of Purdue University. Three of these laws need be kept carefully in mind in breeding corn, namely, that like produces like; that there is a tendency to | onment exert a rotent influence. Keeping in mind the first law mentioned, care should be selected from healthy vigorous stalks of the desired size, bearing ears of approved type and maturing at the desired time. The surrounding stalks whose male flowers have been chiefly instrumental in fertilizing the ear in question, should all produce good ears of corn, be vigorous and of the desired type, in order New that on the side of both male and female the intelligent corn-growers's opportunity and the careless corn grower's menmixed lot of corn, good, bad and indiffsurroundings. It quickly responds to injured by adverse conditions. Without going into details it is important that the a maximum yield and a prime quality and that these conditions should be care fully maintained from year to year. A it will be difficult to carry out the above suggestions for the main crop, the corn improver should have a small plat, of say, an acre, carefully isolated on which to continue improvement of corn. This different parts of the fact, so as to be well away from the corn fields. I should be well adapted to c.rn culture, well fertilized and carefully farmed, according to the most approved methods. The very best seed of the desired type should be used on this plat. It will be well also to plant say, ten days or two weeks later, a few rows on the windward side of the piat to prolong the peried of pollination, in order that the tips of the ears may be well filled. This practice is followed by the most excellen corn-growers. From time to time, this plat should be examined and all imperfect, smutted, barren stalks s - ald be removed. From this plat the seed for the next crop would of course be taken. If the plan outlined above is pursued, i will be possible to secure as good a type

The hog of the past We will also refined the money on one pack was looked upon as merely a scavenger age of either it it falls to give satisfaction, and not as an object of profit unless he could be kept upon food such as no other len mers' estimation they have not advanced I per cent up to the present time, re gardless of the lessons which well conducted experiments have taught the reading farmer. My experiments with to my entire saisfaction that hogs are the most profitable stock a farmer can handled, will pay for herself twice ev ery year. I have one sow that brough pigs were kept on altaifa until August when the pigs were started on grain. this was gradually changed to corr Those pigs were marketed when six months old and weighed a little over 200 pounds each; they brought me about ₹65. I have seven more pigs from ! pounds each, and she will bring me an other litter of pigs in June. Now this is only one sow and an average of my herd, but I think it a fair illustration of the profit in a good brood sow upon a farm. Some farmers may say that hogs are more liable to disease than other animals and this may or may not be true. I have lost a few hogs but never lost one from choleta or any other contagion that I know of positively, although I have had cholera all around ma. My theory for curing this disease is to doctor the pen and not the hogs. I never use one pen or lot longer than six months at a time and always make it a point to grow some crop each summer on the ground used for hog lots during the winter and early in the spring plow my summer lots and sow to outs or barley. This has always been my way of handling hogs and I have never been bothered with disease. I never shut my hogs in a small pen until a few weeks before putting them on the market.-A writer in the Praire Farmer

RHEUMATISM Distorts Muscles, Shatters Nerves,

Is due to an acid poison which gains access to the blood through failure of the proper ans to carry off and keep the system clear of all morbid, effete matter. This poison through the general circulation is deposited in the joints, muscles and nerves, causing the most intense pain. Rhenmatism may attack with such suddenness and severity as to make within a few days a healthy, active person helpiess and bed-ridden, with distorted limbs and shattered nerves; or it may be slow in developing, with shight wandering pains, just severe enough to make one feel uncomfortable; the tendency in such cases is to grow worse, and finally become chroade.

Like other blood diseases, Rheumatism is often inherited, and exposure to damp or cold, want of proper food, insufficient clothing, or anything calculated to impair the health, will frequently cause it to develop in early life, but more often not until middle age or later. In whistever form, whether acute or chronic, acquired or acquired or inherited. Rheumatism is Strictly a Blood Disease, and no liniment or other external treatment can reach the trouble. Neither do the preparations of potash and mercury, and the various mineral salts, which the doctors always prescribe, cure Rheumatism, but rain the digestion and break down the constitution.

A remedy which builds up the general health and at the same time rids the system of the poison is solvent, purifying properties, attacks the disease in the right way, and in the right place—the blood—and quickly neutralizes the acid and dissolves all poisonous deposits, stimulates and reinforces the overworked, worn-out organs, and clears the system of all unhealthy accumulations. S. S. S. cures permanently and thoroughly, and keeps the blood in a pure, healthy state.

the blood in a pure, healthy state.

Mr. J. O. Mailey, 13, W. 13th Street. Indianapolis, Iud., for eighteen months was so terribly afflicted with Rheumatism he was unable to feed or dress binned. Dectors add his case was hopeless. He had tried fifty-two prescriptions that friends had given him, without the sightest refer. A few bottles of $ 8.8 cured him permanently, and he has never had a rheumatic pair since. This was few years ago.

We will send free our special book on Rheumatism, which should be in the hands of every sufferer from this torturing disease. Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study, and will give you any information or advice wanted, so write them fully and freely about your case. The Good R ad Commission, author The Great Spring Medicine. ized by the last legislature, met last SEVEN BUNNING SORES CUIED. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA as a Hood Food and Nerve Energizer, is the greatest SPRING MEDICINE ever cas overed. It comes as a rich blessing from heaven to the "worn out," the run down the overworked and debilitated. That "tired feeling," those "building spells" the languor and despondency which arise from badly nourished nerves, from thin, virilized blood and an undered body, vanish as if by a magic spell. The weariness, less tude and nervous prostration which accompany the springtime and the heat of surumer, are conquered and banished at once. For every form of neurasthenia, and all adments of the triain and nerve, insemnal hysteria and nervousness generally, it is almost a specific. It furnishes the very elements to rebuild worm-out nerve tissues. It feeds brain, herve content and nerves, callying and equalizing their action; it makes rich, red, hearst blood. N. wales of lite, new hope, new strength follow its faithful use. It makes the week spent, and the old young again. It was the ant quated (but now harpfly exploded) method in the good old times, to treat Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Cancer and other troublesome disorders arising from BLOOD TAINT with powerful idioratives, such as mercury, assente and other mineral agents. It was expected by this teatine at that the potion hould be killed while the blood was left to course if reach its change's helping in its disculation the specific germs of the disease. But in this way every put of the body became more or less diseased. Nothing can be more turnible than a hoperale destructive blood taint. It not only attacks virulently the different structures of the today. Lat made three the bands are honey-combed and destroyed. It often see is out the prives outlepseal cord, and again it will bring decay and death to tome vital organ, as the kidneys, ever or stomach. There is only one scientific method the the cure of blood tand. That is, PURIFICATION! Every particle of the blood must be tomoved through the executiony channels, the lungs, kidneys, bowels. vitalizer of the bood, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, not only radically and exhaustively removes the taint, but also removes all increary, calomel and other minerals. and fills the years and arter, is with the ruby ig oxing current of vitality. "The blood is the life." Good health means pure is odd. The old and reliable remedy. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, in universally regarded as the greatest Blood Purifier ever discovered.
